NEWS ITEMS OF INTEREST

Sir George Balfour recently spoke in the House of Commons to the Speaker alone, there being actually not a single other member in the House.

A bad little Milwaukee boy, having been expelled from school, returned in girl's clothes and the imposture was not discovered for several months.

Admiral Phillips Westphal, the oldest commissioned officer in the British Navy, died on March 16, at Ryde, at the age of 90. Admiral Westphal had seen much service at a most stirring time. He won his first promotion to the rank of Lieutenant at the battle of Copenhagen.

The new gambling law for Arizona, which went into effect last Monday, requires each house wherein gambling is carried on to pay a quarterly license of $500. The money is to be paid into the county treasury—one-half for general county purposes and one-half to go to the county school fund.

Dr. Andrews heard a burglar in his house in Philadelphia, and had no pistol to shoot him with, so he inflated a paper bag which happened to be at hand, dashed upon the thief with a shot and exploded the bag which made a noise like a pistol shot. The man sank to the floor with abject terror and begged for mercy.

Says the Arizona Miner: Calvin Jackson, the veteran prospector of Yavapai county, came in town last evening from his hydraulic works on Lynx creek and reports that he secured in 24 days run the nice sum of $2,500, which is a little over a hundred dollars a day. This is the result of having plenty of water with which to wash away the earth and leave uncovered the yellow nuggets that are so profusely scattered through the gravel beds of Lynx creek for miles in length and width.

Mr. McKellar owns the actual Cape of Good Hope and much and adjoining, whereupon he has a large ostrich farm. A kick from an ostrich is well known to be very dangerous. Mr. McKellar said that the only thing to do when attacked without means of defence was to lie flat down and let the bird walk on you until he is tired. The business is preferable. From ten pairs of full grown birds, which one man may look after, an income of $10,000 or $15,000 may be reckoned on.

What "The Jersey" Is.

The so called "Jersey costume" for ladies is thus described in an advertisement of a London dressmaker: "The bodice of this costume is composed of material specially woven for the purpose either in silk or wool, the texture of which is so elastic that a perfectly-fitting dress can be made without the ordinary seams. The dress is arranged to lace up the back, and, fitting to the figure as well as a kid glove should fit the hand, produces a remarkably good effect." That is, provided the wearer has a good form. Probably none others will venture on such a display of their persons.

Sol Levy has such a lovely variety of ladies' and children's stockings and so very cheap, that short dresses will become all the rage—Don't you see the point, Dear Joe? Less dress goods

IS INTEMPERANCE INCREASING?

In Providence, R. I., John B. Gough recently gave us his opinion that drunkenness in this country has increased in the last quarter of a century, and is greater than it was thirty-six years ago. But allowance must be made for the great increase in population within this period. It is certain that a great change of public sentiment has taken place in that time as regards intoxication. Drunkenness was no such disgrace thirty years ago as it is now. Gradually the feeling has grown up that a man who gets drunk forfeits respect. It is a very wholesome sentiment. There may be a difference of opinion in regard to the use of intoxicants, but there is no excuse whatever for getting drunk. Drunkenness is unmanly, disgusting and degrading. Every excess in drinking impairs the power of the will. It is undoubtedly the best and safest plan for those who have what is called an appetite for strong drink to refrain from it altogether. But if men cannot be persuaded to do this, let them shun intemperance. Every time a man gets drunk he takes a step toward moderation more difficult. In those in whom habits of excess are confirmed, there is a point of indulgence beyond which moderation is impossible. They can drink just so much and then self-control. Another glass, and they lose all self-restraint, and become beastly drunk.

Mr. Gough is probably wrong in his estimate. He is not a statistician. There is undoubtedly more liquor drunk than there was a quarter of a century ago, but it is drunk with more moderation than ever. The whisky of our fathers, etc., etc., etc.

HOW TO STOP SMOKING.

Many a man has tried to renounce tobacco, and after a day or two of abstinence, has returned to the weed with greater relish than ever. The habit of smoking is very hard to break up. It has been called a vice, but it is by no means certain that it is one. There are thousand physicians who think that the moderate use of tobacco by adults, so far from being an evil, is a positive benefit. But it is not the purpose of this article to defend the use of tobacco. Its object is to point out to the smoker who desires to "reform," how he may gradually wean himself from the weed. The method is the discovery of a "bona-fide" man, and is thus described by the New York Times:

"We suppose that a smoker who desires to reform is in the habit of beginning to smoke, say at 8 o'clock every morning. Let him begin his reformation of Monday morning by lighting his first cigar at five minutes after eight. During the day he will smoke whenever he feels so disposed, but be careful to go to bed at his usual hour. On Tuesday he will begin to smoke at precisely 8:10 a.m., and on Wednesday at 8:15. He will steadily persevere in this course, smoking his first cigar five minutes later every day. At the end of a fortnight he will find that he is smoking one cigar less than he has been in the habit of doing, and that his cigar has vanished easily and imperceptibly from those daily consumed by him."

A NEW RAILROAD

The South Pacific Coast Railroad (now under construction) is nearly completed. The road extends from Alameda to Santa Cruz. It skirts the shore of San Francisco Bay to San Jose, and thence goes straight to the Santa Cruz mountains, which it pierces with several tunnels, affording a fine view through the mountains upon the city of Santa Cruz, one of the most charming seaside resorts on the Pacific coast. The trip over the Santa Cruz mountains commands some magnificent views, and near the terminus there is a grove of superb redwoods, one of them 276 feet in height and over sixty in circumference. Ferry boats from San Francisco connect with the trains at Alameda. The first through trains will be run this week, and the whole road will be open to regular traffic. The S. P. C. R. R. is a little over eight miles long, and the schedule time between the two ends is about three hours and a half. The completion of this road should give a great impetus to Santa Cruz as a place of popular summer resort.

R. L. Miller of Union College, Poulsbo, Washington, has a large English edition of Schenck's Musical Dictionary, and desires musicians and teachers to communicate with him.

PATERNAL GOVERNMENT.

What should be done with the King of Burmah, who has just buried alive 700 human beings in order that the supernatural powers might be tickled and cure his leprosy? It is a question for the civilized nations of the world to consider. Shall this beastly old King be allowed to go on administering his Paternal Government as it may please him? We think the best thing that can be done for King Thebeau, his leprosy, and his subjects, is to capture him, and then give him a short halter and a Christian burial.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A legal problem of greater intricacy and difficulty of solution than the missing debris question has come up in California. Thousands of tons of honey are produced in Southern California. The bee-keeper buys a few acres of land, sets thereon his hives, and the bees fly to his neighbor's vineyards, sucking honey from the choicest fruits, and doing them considerable injury. The grape-growers and orchardists complain of this, and propose to find some legal means of restraining the apiculturists from profiting by their loss. Meanwhile the bee-men keep on quietly gathering honey, and say to the fruit growers: "If our bees are trespassing in your orchards and vineyards, drive them away; we shall not object." This tone of indifference and cool independence is what exasperates the cultivators of the vine.

The GAZETTE of Reno, a straight-out independent Republican paper, looks at the situation in this manner, saying: "Blaine is getting strength sufficient to insure Grant's defeat. Grant already has plenty to beat Blaine." If that is how it stands, and neither of the above mentioned gentlemen can be nominated, will not the National Convention be very likely to choose Washburne? It is just possible, however, that things may "shove" before the convention shall meet.—Etko Post.

A short time since, while Thatch Lovejoy, of the Auburn, Placer county, stage line, was driving around a short curve down the Greenwood hill at his usual break speed, he came upon a gray fox, which was overtaken as he crouched in his tracks and was run over by one of the stage wheels.

An ineffectual search has been made by dragging the slough north of Sacramento for the body of S. C. Coffin, who disappeared mysteriously some time since. A spirit medium had stated that he had drowned himself by attaching a weight to his legs and jumping off the Third-street bridge.

There are thousands of water-fowl—ducks, geese, swans, etc.—in the valley about Susanville now. They make this a sort of resting place during their yearly migration north and south. Deer are said to be more numerous in the north-western part of Lassen county than for many years before. One man saw a band which he estimated to contain 150 deer.

Some sixty men and twenty-five teams are now finding employment on the Wutachumpa ditch, Tulare county. The wages paid to pickers and shovellers are $25 per month. Teamsters get $2.50 per day, and find their own horse feed and scrapers. About ten miles of the upper line is completed, reaching a point north of Iron Mountain. This is an old franchise, and work has been prosecuted on it at intervals for eight years.

An armless Mexican woman plays on the piano with her feet. It is said that musical critics delight to turn the music for her.

Vigneaux, the French billiardist, defeated Slosson in Paris, on the 10th, marking 1,600 points to Slosson's 798.

The Bodie Free Press has enlarged.

The more of it the better.

The California Legislature will adjourn next Friday.

From the Scientific American.

The Paris correspondent of the New York Herald has thought the following of sufficient importance to transmit by cable to New York:

Paris clocks have long afforded a subject of ridicule to foreigners. In a few days there will be no room for derision. Within the last week some public, illuminated timepieces have been erected in the middle of the causeway of the leading thoroughfares. These are all in communication with the works of the new Pneumatic Clock Company, in the Rue St. Anne. By means of the subterranean tubes this company receives the time direct from the Observatory every morning, and regulates all the timepieces in connection simultaneously. In future it will be possible to have the correct time laid on in any house, like gas or water, at the trifling cost of from three to five cents per clock per day. I was allowed to inspect the company's premises privately to-day, and examine the whole arrangements. The air is compressed by steam engines and driven at intervals of a minute through the communicating tubes, so as to move the minute hand the requisite distance at each pulsation. It can be applied to any clock. The company undertakes to pay all the cost of the fitting. It supplies clocks gratuitously and charges only a subscription. By this new system all trouble of repairing and winding up is done away with. Over one thousand pneumatic clocks are ordered already, and will soon be tested at New York, where the patent for America has been purchased.

From the Burlington Hawkeye.

"Sir" roared out a man in Nebraska, striding up to a neighbor. "Sir, you are a liar." "I am" exclaimed the astonished neighbor. "How do you know I am?" "Because I know it, because I have found it out." "How long have you been here?" "Six weeks." Neighbor tranquilly nodded his head. "Oh, well, probably you do know it then. I didn't think you had been in town so long." There was no fight.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

A STRONG GOVERNMENT.

The King of Burmah sacrifices his Human Lives to Cure His Leprony.

LONDON, April 10th.—A Burmese correspondent says: Mandalay astrologers mention that in order to remove the evil influences great propitiatory sacrifices are required. The victims will be taken from all ranks to the number of four hundred. The priests contribute one hundred; the remainder will be men women, and children. Many arrests have been made to secure a sufficient number for the victims to be selected from. The Catholic Convent was entered to procure victims from among the girls there, but the attempt was frustrated. The internal condition of the country is most unsatisfactory. The people, while seeing the folly of King Thebeau's acts, are helpless to effect a change.

RANGOON, April 10th.—The report of the death of King Thebeau of Burmeh cannot be traced to an authentic source, but indiscriminate human sacrifices have been offered at Mandalay to save his life. Telegraphic communication is interrupted.

LONDON, April 12th.—Seven hundred men boys, women, girls, priests and foreigners sacrificed at Mandalay for the restoration of the King's health were buried alive, not burned, under the towers of the city walls.

"The Correct Thing" At a Fancy Ball.

From Foreign's Progress.

At a London private fancy ball even the servants and the band were in costume. It was the correct thing for the married ladies to wear their petticoats up to their knees. One went a gold—a mass of coins and gold shoes with about three inches of heel. Her husband appeared as a butcher; another man as a monkey, and very horrible he looked, with a tail that twirled around as he danced.

A Two-Headed Fish.

From the Kuruk-Sarvati.

The most remarkable thing in the piscatorial field that we have ever witnessed, arrived in Eureka by last night's train. It is a well formed trout, about 16 inches in length, and possesses two distinct heads and four eyes, but only two fins. It is certainly a curiosity, and may be seen at Gravich Brothers store.

Walking Away from Weston.

Weston's walk ended on Saturday night at 11 o'clock with a score of only 363 miles. Callahan scored 363 miles and Chenoweth 343. Hart, the colored pedestrian, closed a six-day walk at the same hour Saturday night in New York, with a score of 565 miles to his credit. Weston's star has been totally eclipsed.

What are They Giving Us?

CHICAGO, April 10.—Suit is pending in the U. S. Court of this city concerning the oleomargarine patent, which has brought out the fact that oleomargarine, which is never quoted in the market, and is not kept by any merchant as such, has a sale in this country of ninety-eight million pounds per annum.

Stop That Cough.

With a sample bottle of Kaiser's German Elixir. This is the most wonderful cough remedy ever introduced, being mild, yet potent in its action and soothing under all circumstances. Old and young may use it with perfect security. It is rich in the medicinal properties of tartar, glycerine and horseradish. Ask your druggist Messrs. Osborn & Shoe makers about its merits. They sell large quantities of it and say it exceeds all others.

The genuine bears the Prussian coat of arms and the facsimile signature of Dr. Kaiser on the wrapper and has his name blown in every 75 cent bottle. Samples 25 cent. Large size 75 cents.

D. BANKS MCKENZIE.

A Letter of Thanks and Encouragement From the Well-Known Temperance Lecturer.

Editor Reno Gazette:—I can hardly find words adequate to express my gratitude to the Reform Club and people of your beautiful little city, for the kindness and hospitality which I have received during my visit. I was most heartily welcomed by the Temperance Reform Club, established by me one year ago, and my labors have been attended with most gratifying success. Every time I look on your worthy President my heart is made to rejoice. The Club have my earnest prayers for their continued success and increasing prosperity. My thanks are especially due to the ladies, for their hearty co-operation, and to the members of the press, for the complimentary notices which they have given of my efforts in the cause of temperance reform. May I not indulge the hope that I have many warm friends in Reno, of whose welfare I shall always be glad to hear, and whom it will give me great pleasure to visit again as soon as practicable. In the meantime, may God keep us all true to ourselves, and to the noble cause in which we have enlisted. At duty's call may we consecrate our life, with its wealth of power, love and sympathy, to the Divine philanthropy of saving men from the terrible consequences of the use of strong drink. To save from falling or to secure the fallen is equally divine. To help men and women to realize the true end of their being, is surely God-like. To be instrumental in purifying and elevating any portion of our race; to help lift dead-weights from off the fallen; to remove debasing influences; to give an impulse and an upward tendency to everything good within us; to pour into every social circle the oil of joy and gladness; to make way for the pure air of heaven into the dens of vice and corruption, sin and shame; to strike chords in human hearts that have long since ceased to vibrate to the touch of any human hand; to dig among the ruins of our humanity for the Divine inscriptions, for traces of former glory or a prophecy of coming good; polish the jewel of self-respect; to cherish better feelings, and encourage higher aspirations; to tenderly watch the holy resolve and help it to pass over into action; to wipe away the falling tear; to bind up the broken hearted; to make the homes of earth types of the home in heaven; to promote sobriety and virtue; to lay the foundations of future usefulness and greatness; to help usher in the day of national, material and spiritual prosperity; to humanize and christenize the world; this, this is the work that angels might covet, and that God will ever own and bless.

And this is the work in which you as a Temperance Reform Club are found engaged. May the day be not far distant when here, and everywhere, the principles of temperance shall prevail, and when a drunkard shall no more be found, when parents will be under the necessity of explaining to their children what is the meaning of a Temperance Reform Club. Go on in your good work. God is on our side.

Yours, D. BANKS MCKENZIE.

A Great Nevada Opera Singer.

An item is floating about in the newspapers to this effect: Among the Americans who are studying in Italy is Mile. Nevada, now staying at Nice, where she is diligently practicing. Those who are enthusiastic about her go to the length of saying that when she appears before the opera-going public, such stars as Patti and Albani will pale into insignificance. It is we believe, decided that this extraordinary young songstress has been engaged to make her debut in "La Sonambula" at Her Majesty's Opera, London, early next month. The young lady is about twenty years of age, a capital actress and decidedly pretty. Lastly, this celebrated Mile. Nevada is Miss Emma Wixom of Austin, Nev.

A Gross Libel.

The Philadelphia News has had the unblushing impudence to thus grossly libel one of the finest summer and winter resorts of the state: "Paradise is the name of a town in Nevada that has one gin mill to every four inhabitants. It takes its name from the custom of throwing a pair o' dice for drinks."

Worse and Worse.

Some interesting developments of a scandalous nature are soon to be brought out in the suit of Jane Lake vs. M. C. Lake. The plaintiff's counsel has filed a notice of intention to move the Court on Friday next for a commission to take some peculiar evidence. Sylvanus Conkey lives near Susanville, and his testimony is wanted by the plaintiff. He once lived with the parties to the suit. It is proposed to ask him what he knows about M. C. Lake's having made improper proposals to a certain lady relative of the plaintiff, and what effect the news of her husband's misconduct had upon the said plaintiff, etc., etc.

An Alarm of Fire.

An alarm of fire was sounded about 1:30 P. M. to-day. Both the fire engines and "48" turned out. A slight flame had been discovered under the railroad bridge. One of the timbers had caught fire, probably from a spark thrown out by a locomotive. A bucket of water was sufficient to extinguish the blaze, and no damage was done. Such a strong wind was blowing at the time that had the fire got well under way, the bridge would probably have been consumed.

Mr. Weed Departs.

E. A. Weed, editor and proprietor of the Lassen Advocate, left for home this morning. He was engaged for several days in bringing home to Reno merchants the importance of the new road which it is proposed to build through to Lakeview, Oregon. Mr. Weed was at Mrs. Alt's dance last night, where he was conspicuous for his gallantry to the ladies.

Fees and Salaries.

The reports of the County Officers for the quarter ending April 1, make the following showing: Auditor Levy, $100; Sheriff Walker, $1,823 90; County Clerk Parish, $1,975; Justice Young, $633 85; Justice Power, $14; Constable Wooten, $32 30; Constable Joy, $7; Constable Avery, $45 45; Justice Griswold, $76.

A Valuable Device.

Those little snow plows or "scrapers" that may be seen on all the C. P. locomotives running "on the hill" now, are very useful for clearing the track of light snow and boulders. At this season, large stones frequently roll down upon the track. Engine 181 not long ago threw a half ton boulder from the road with one of the little "scrapers."

Drugs and Patent Medicines.

Mrs. Julia Prentiss has re-established her self in Reno, is opening out the finest and most select stock of millinery and fancy goods that has ever been brought to Reno, and would be pleased to have her former friends and customers call and inspect her new and new styles of millinery goods, which will be sold at the lowest cash prices.

And this is the work in which you as a Temperance Reform Club are found engaged. Free Lecture.

Father McGrath, leader of the "Liberal" religious movement in Nevada, and pastor of the "Liberal Society" in Virginia, will lecture in the Reform Club hall this evening on the subject of "Natural Religion." The seats will be free. The well known reputation of the lectures as an orator should secure a crowded house.

Sheep Shearing.

D. C. Campbell began shearing yesterday. He has a flock of 5,000 sheep on J. G. Smith's ranch, about seven miles from town. The clip will average about five pounds to the fleece. The wool is very white and clean. The sheep he is now shearing will be lambing about the 28th inst.
